

Breakout Session II – Practice Analytics

Nate Moore, Moore Solutions Inc.

Description:

How often do you focus and act on data from your practice's dashboard? Is your dashboard pretty useful or just pretty? This session will look at how leading medical practices customize dashboards they receive to get the most insight and direction in a short amount of time, featuring tips and tricks for making dashboards customizable, dynamic and practical. Attendees will consider how dashboards are delivered, who sees them and how often they are reviewed, as well as how to organize dashboards to be efficient and effective in displaying critical, timely information. Attendees will learn how to consider how these dashboards motivate different members of their team to improve performance, and how dashboards designed by CPAs and practice administrators address specific challenges. Helpful case studies will be presented to show these ideas in a real-world setting.

Objectives:

- Compare examples of practice-changing dashboards for medical practices nationwide
- Experiment with new ways to drive change in your organization via timely, relevant data
- Outline to peers how to build better practice dashboards for your specific organization